Date of publication and production of master: 1976

Series: The purpose of this series is to make available those catalogues that have lasting interest through their text or their illustrations. Catalogues and cumulations of titles in the series are available from the publishers.

Serial numbers: Each title is identified by a seven-figure serial number placed in the top right hand corner of the microfiche title strip. The first figure indicates the number of the list in which the title first appears. The first three-figure group signifies the gallery or museum; the second three-figure group the accession number for that title.

PRIVATE VIEW AND INTERVIEW — By Franklin Arbuckle, A.R.C.A., O.S.A.

CATALOGUE

"On Friday the Queen comes attended by her courtiers and train, and deigns, with royal eyes, to examine the works of her Royal Academicians. Her, as we are given to understand, the President receives, bowing profoundly. Awe-stricken, his gold chain dangles from his Presidential bosom, and sweet smiles of respectful courtesy light up his venerable face. Walking by Her Majesty's side, he explains to her the wonders of the show. 'That, it may please your Majesty, is a picture representing yourself, painted by the good Knight, Sir David Wilkie: deign to remark how the robes seem as if they were cut out of British oak, and the figure is as wooden as the figure-head of one of your Majesty's men-of-war. Opposite is your Majesty's royal consort, by Mr. Patten. We have the honour to possess two more pairs of Pattens in this Academy—ha, ha! Round about you will see some of my own poor works of art. Yonder is Mr. Landseer's portrait of your Majesty's own cockatoo, with a brace of Havadavats. Please your Royal Highness to look at the bit of biscuit; no baker could have done it more natural.' " . . . . .

And so Mr. Titmarsh imagines the lively conversation of a bland President describing the paintings in an exhibition of other days. The modern President, relieved of the need of describing what may easily be seen by the ordinary observer, leaves the 65th Annual Exhibition of the Ontario Society of Artists to introduce itself, confident that its contents maintain the best standards of Canadian art.
